DO WE WANT ZONE FIVE?

Should we control floods in Central Washington Township?

This seems like asking if we should control crime, or plague. Yet some people are asking the question. Their queries could stop Niles, Decoto, Centerville and Newark from getting flood control and drainage plans started for another year.

A community curbs criminals by hiring policemen, or sheriffs. It controls plague by hiring health officers. These are public officials. Their salaries must be met out of taxes. But taxpayers want crime and disease controlled. So they are willing to pay the tax.

It is the same with floods. We are past the stage when each farmer could ditch his property, dam his creek, control floods and drain his land. We live too close together. We are too dependent on what our neighbors may or may not decide to do. Flood control must be a community project, like sheriffs and health officers.

In years past, when heavy rains came, Alameda Creek overflowed its banks and flooded nearby farms and towns. Smaller creeks made puddles on our roads. So did runoffs from our open fields and orchards.

The peril is still here, increased by the fact that Washington Township is no longer just open fields. Homes and factories are here. More want to come in. But for every house and every factory, there is a two-fold problem: floods and drainage.

The floods made it impossible to locate buildings except on selected pieces of high ground. And the threat of floods will keep industry out. Lack of drainage does the same. New buildings don't absorb water like plowed fields, and the water runs swiftly off their hard surfaces, down into the houses and plants below. It creates a problem that county officials refuse to inflict on anyone.

Trying to solve these problems, the county has formed flood control zones up and down the Bay Plain. Some take care of floods and drainage around San Lorenzo. One recently was approved for the Irvington region. Now it's time to consider one for Niles, Centerville, Newark and Decoto. It has to be formed by February 1.

Under provisions of the zone, county engineers then can begin plans to drain, dike and channel the Central Township. But before these plans can be put into effect, bonds must be voted by a two-thirds majority of voters here.

In other words, flood control doesn't cost a penny until two-thirds of the electors decide they like the plans, approve of the cost. The zone is the first step. This is what will make our communities grow, attract new factories and homes, help pay our other taxes for schools, fire protection, roads.

A little local boost will start the magic process, for Federal and State governments will bear most of the cost.

Tonight (Thursday) in Washington Hi Auditorium, county officials will be awaiting the word from the people of this district: do we or don't we want flood control? If the answer is no, then it will be another full year before we can consider it.

A big public turnout and a big endorsement is needed. It will be given! We cannot believe that our readers are blind, that they don't realize flood control is necessary to their future health, happiness and prosperity.

Decoto, Newark Call Halt

Flood Curbs Threatened

Meeting Tonight 'Last Chance' For Plan to Curb Creek this Year

Flood control programs for central Washington Township were threatened with another year's delay last week when Newark and Decoto representatives refused to sanction Flood Zone 5.

Last chance for the zone this year comes tonight at a final meeting in Washington Hi auditorium at 8 p.m.

Unless enough backing for the zone developes at tonight's meeting, its formation may be tabled for another year. This was hinted strongly last Thursday by members of the county's Flood Control Advisory Commission.

At last week's session in the county building, Arthur Cotton of the Newark Chamber of Commerce, and William Davis of the Decoto Chamber told the commission those bodies "hadn't had a chance to study" the proposal, and wanted more time to decide.

But county officials pointed out a decision must be made before February 1 if the zone is to be formed this year.

Niles and Centerville Chambers already have strongly endorsed formation of the zone. In voting on January 12, Livermore and Pleasanton decided they didn't want to join the Township in the program.

Herbert G. Crowle, county flood engineer, explained to an audience of 25 persons:

1. Formation of the zone entails no expense to taxpayers until they approve engineering plans and vote a bond issue.

2. Most of the expense (estimated at $8,500,000) in harnessing Alameda Creek and draining its surrounding lands would be borne by Federal and State governments. Local costs would be held to 50 cents per $100 assessment on land and improvements.

But the Decoto and Newark spokesmen demanded "more information," and threatened to vote against the zone unless this was forthcoming.

At least one Decoto organization, the Homeowners Association, has endorsed the zone, according to Manuel Hidalgo, who was present.

This group met Tuesday night in the Decoto Firehouse to hear Crowle's aides explain the program. At the same time, Crowle was meeting with Newark Chamber directors in an effort to win their backing. The Newark Cham-

CELERY COMES TOO HIGH AROUND HERE

Celery is priced at $5 a bunch in Washington Township, when you don't buy it in groceries.

Charles Ireland, Manteca motorist, found this out Tuesday after a jury trial before Judge E. A. Quaresma on charges of stealing 30 bunches from a field owned by George Nakamura on Santos Road.

Ireland was arrested on petty theft charges last month after Nakamura reported the theft to sheriff's deputies. Ireland pleaded innocent.

He was found guilty after three hours of testimony and 19 minutes of deliberation by the jurors.

Judge Quaresma fined the Mantecan $150.

ALVISO SEWER VOTE IS FEBRUARY 27

Voters between Centerville and Alvarado, in the Alviso District, will ballot February 27 on whether they want to join the Union Sanitary District.

An affirmative vote will double the size of the present district, which embraces Centerville, Newark and Niles. Some 5000 acres are involved.

George Coit, USD president, said no protests to the annexation were received at last week's meeting. In fact, said Coit, a representative from the Decoto Homeowners Association was on hand to ask if Decoto could be annexed next.

Public Okehs Irvington Rezoning; Stivers Ranch to Be Industrial

Rezoning in its final form was approved at a public meeting in Irvington Tuesday night by a 29-2 vote.

The revision embodies a last change whereby most of the 600-acre Stivers Ranch, north of town, would be zoned for industry. The ranch has been rumored under consideration by several major plants.

Bert Scott and Mrs. Laverne Dickenson said they were disturbed over reports that part might be designated for "a playground" since the Stivers heirs want to sell it for industrial use.

They were reassured when Bill Humpert and Jack Parry, members of the Chamber of Commerce zoning committee, said they would ask the county to zone whatever portion they want for industry.

Now the whole project goes to the Planning Commission, which will set official hearings. Humpert said these have been offered to be held in Irvington.

Representatives of the Western Pacific and Southern Pacific railroads were on hand to say they generally approve the revision of Irvington's 1947-vintage zoning. The new plan grants more industrial land.

R. D. Rodenberger, of the SP, asked that his station and adjoining land be zoned industrial. Jack Stevenson asked more highway commercial zoning, since he said one subdivider "has set aside 80 acres for shopping centers."

FURNITURE TAKES WING IN GLENMOOR

Homeloving burglars last week-end made off in leisurly style with a houseful of leisure-type furnishings from Glenmoor Gardens.

David Beebe, San Leandro furniture dealer, reported the furniture stolen Saturday night from a model home he had furnished in the tract, at 432 Mattos Road.

Beebe listed as missing chairs, rugs, drapes, lamps, and a set of fire irons.

Mrs. Vivian Dosher, a neighbor, of 416 Mattos Road, reported to sheriff's deputies she noticed a panel truck parked at the model home early Sunday when she arose to feed her baby.

Officers said entry apparently had been made through an unlocked patio door.

Kidnapper Ex-Nilesan

Joseph Lear, one of two men arrested Tuesday for the kidnapping of Leonard Moskovitz, San Francisco realtor, is a former resident of Niles, Main Streeters recalled today.

Lear lived here for about six months in 1952, in an apartment on I Street, between First and Second, while employed as a Maintenance superintendent in a local factory.

GIRLS' W CLUB HONORS GRIDDERS

Members of Washington Union High School's Varsity and Lightweight football teams and the Class C and D basketball teams were honored at a banquet given last week in the high school cafeteria.

The dinner, sponsored by the Girls' W Club, was a token of appreciation of the effort put forth by players, managers, and coaches during the past season.

Following the dinner, Carlita Von Euw, Girls' W Club president, introduced Varsity Coach Clyde Voorhees. After a few words of appreciation, sports films were enjoyed by the group.

Seated at the head table were Girls' W Club officers, Carlita Von Euw and Jean Tacang, Faculty Advisors Mrs. Gertrude Dutra and Mrs. Ruth Shiffrar, Vice-Principal Irving Hird, and Coaches Voorhees, Bob Osborne, Gene Johnson, Barney Bragg, Don Wolfe and Larry Fernandes. Fernandes is a student coach from San Jose State.

Girls serving on the committee were Beverley Lopez, Marlene Silva and Elaine Thornburg.

CENTERVILLE STORE THEFTS LEAD TO FOUR ARRESTS

Two couples suspected of burglary were nabbed Saturday minutes after they reportedly victimized two Centerville business establishments for a total of $75.

Held are Lily Mae Bailey, 29; Lorraine Gibson, 24; William S. "Brother" McDonald, 39; and Ernest "Fat" Goodson, 55, all of Los Angeles.

Complaints against the quartet came from Mrs. Lilia Bettencourt, of Centerville Cleaners; and from Beverly Hopper, of Mildred's Apparel, Main Street.

According to their stories, the two women first entered the dress shop and one engaged Mrs. Hopper in conversation while the other apparently slipped behind a counter and abstracted $20 and a wallet from a purse there.

Then the duo allegedly repeated the trick at the cleaners', taking $60 there.

The women reportedly got into the car, in which the two men were sitting, and fled. Mrs. Bettencourt noticed the loss first, and alerted the sheriff's substation here.

Radio cars produced an arrest in East Oakland. All four were reportedly identified by their alleged victims; and were found to be carrying currency in excess of the sum stolen.

The women were charged with burglary, and the men with conspiracy to commit burglary.

CIVIL DEFENSE SIREN TEST SET FOR NEXT MONDAY

Southern Alameda county's attack warning sirens will wail next Monday noon in the second statewide test of these devices ordered by the California Office of Civil Defense.

Sheriff H. P. Gleason said existing C.D. siren facilities in Washington Township will be tested, principally firehouse installations. Four new ten-horsepower sirens recently ordered by the Alameda County Civil Defense and Disaster Council for the Township have not yet been installed, pending negotiations with utility companies for power facilities.

Purpose of the series of statewide tests is to check warning facilities for volume and distance carried. Others are scheduled February 22, March 22, and April 26.

The testing signals will consist of a three-minute wailing siren, followed by the all-clear of three one-minute blasts. There will be two minutes silence between.

Sheriff Gleason reminded residents that no public participation is to be taken, such as stopping traffic, going to shelter or otherwise stopping normal duties.

However, he requests citizens failing to hear the sirens under normal hearing conditions and within reasonable range of the devices to notify the County Civil Defense Headquarters, P. O. Box 3247, San Leandro, or telephone LUcerne 2-9211.

PLEADS INNOCENT

A jury trial is scheduled here January 27 for Romaldo Pedraza, San Jose laborer, whose car was involved in a collision at Hillview Crest last fall with one containing Supervisor Harry Bartell. Bartell was hurt in the crash, and Pedraza was charged with several traffic violations, to which he pleaded not guilty.

WILSON ASKS PROBE OF TAX CHISELING ON GI EXEMPTION

Resolutions asking that the county investigate alleged "chiseling" on GI tax exemptions were demanded — unsuccessfully — on Tuesday by Dr. T. C. Wilson before the Niles Chamber of Commerce.

Dr. Wilson declared he is certain many GIs who are receiving the State $1000 GI property-tax exemption cannot legally qualify for it because they possess more than $5000 in homes, cars and other property.

He asked that the county assessor's office "investigate the chiselers," and "make them pay their share of the schools" and other county services. Wilson said unjust exemptions "place a burden on everyone else in the community."

Nobody seconded his motion, sler ruled the issue had to be however, and Pres. C. W. Chryheld over anyway, since it was "controversial."

COUNTY ASKED TO EASE TRACT RULES

Developers of a projected 1500-home subdivision south of Irvington have asked the county if it would relax city-street rules for suburban lots.

Guy L. Rosebrook, architect for Conway & Culligan, addressed the inquiry to the Alameda County Planning Commission. Asked Rosebrook:

If subdividers would expand their lots to 10,000 square feet, would the county consider eliminating curbs-and-sidewalk requirements to cut tract-development costs?

The commission is considering the issue this week.

Rosebrook explained that savings on street improvements can be passed along to buyers in the form of larger lots. Most recent tracts here have contained 50- and 60-foot lots, with 5000 and 6000 square feet.

The architects argued that larger lots will mean fewer homes and less need for city-type curbs and sidewalks.

SAVINGS & LOAN FIRM FOR CENTERVILLE

A new savings and loan association office will open in Centerville before May 20.

This assurance was passed to the local Chamber of Commerce Monday by Fred Richardson, executive of the Berkeley Savings & Loan Association, who will be the branch's local manager.

Richardson explained the association is negotiating for a site on Main Street, and plans to erect temporary quarters there by May 20. This is to comply with the deadline date on a State permit obtained to operate here.

With his wife and two children, Richardson said he plans to move to the Township from Alameda shortly. He is a World War II Air Force veteran, and past president of the Alameda Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Permanent quarters probably will be erected on the same site within a short time, Richardson added.

Water Topic at Confab

Water problems of Washington Township were aired Tuesday at a meeting of the Land Development Committee of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce, held in Villa Lorenzo.

Matt Whitfield Jr., manager of the Alameda County Water District, told the committee the district serves about 3800 homes here now.

And Gus Robertson, committeeman and superintendent of Irvington Schools, pointed out subdividers have signified intentions to build 11,000 homes in Irvington alone in the next five years.

HAYWARD COUNTS TOWNSHIP CHICKS

Hayward's plans for expansion definitely embrace Washington Township, a Centerville representative reported to the local Chamber of Commerce Monday after attending a Hayward Area Chamber meeting last week.

Dan Irwin said speakers predicted "an area growth" of 125,000 people in the next 10 years; but, added Irwin:

"It is Washington Township's chickens they are counting."

Irwin said that Frederick B. Whitman, president of the Western Pacific Railroad, warned Hayward Area members that Southern Alameda County must not delay its "planning and zoning to accomodate industry" if it is to realize its potential for growth, which Whitman classed as ahead of Los Angeles'.

REVAMPED WTCC REPORT MONDAY

The last in a series of recommendations to revamp the Township Chamber of Commerce will be aired next Monday night at that body's meeting in the County Building.

A committee headed by Charles Snow of Newark met Sunday night and will meet again next Sunday to iron out final recommendations on how the reorganized chamber shall be governed.

Then Snow will render his report on Monday. President Maurice Marks charged him with this responsibility on December 28.

Several towns have demanded that chamber membership be broadened and qualifications for membership liberalized to attract more dues-paying participants. Earlier reports were submitted by committees headed by Gus Robertson of Irvington and Judge Allen G. Norris.

Marks asks a full Chamber turnout for Monday's crucial session.

Other members of Snow's committee include Bruce Michael of Warm Springs, Frank Borghi Jr. of Decoto, Harry Weber of Centerville and Stuart Nixon of Niles.

MRS. ANNA CUNHA, IRVINGTON, DIES

Services were held Monday for Mrs. Anna Cunha, 40, of Irvington, who died January 14 of natural causes.

Mrs. Cunha was a native of Half Moon Bay and a member of SPRSI No. 105 of Irvington.

Services were under direction of Chapel of the Palms, Centerville, with funeral mass at St. Joseph's Church, Mission San Jose. Interment was in Holy Ghost Cemetery, Centerville.

NEW TRACTS ASKED BY GLENMOOR INC.

Petitions for two new tracts by Glenmoor Homes, Inc., were filed this week, and one contemplates an exclusive subdivision in the hills of Mission San Jose.

The tracts are (1) for 25 homes on property owned in Mission by E. E. Huddelson, east of the Highway and south of the Mission itself, and (2) for a larger number of less expensive homes across Blacow Avenue from Glenmoor's present tract south of Centerville.

The County Planning Commission is slated to decide on both applications.

The Mission tract looks to an eventual "planned community" of 150 homes, ranging in the $20,000-and-up price class.

The Centerville tract is planned for several hundred homes in a less expensive category than now are being built by Glenmoor.

Overtime Jinxes Huskies Again; Varsity Bows to Fremont, 51-49

Forward Dick Choate and Fremont's Indians handed the luckless Washington Huskies their second successive overtime loss, 51-49, in a Santa Clara Valley Athletic League second rounder last Friday.

Washington's lightweights won their second straight start with a 51-38 victory over the Papooses in the preliminary.

Washington appeared to be a winner in the varsity tilt when Gordon Agrella's field goal in the final 15 seconds sent the Huskies into a 45-44 lead.

Choate, however, made good on a free throw in the final five seconds to send the game into overtime.

Pete Mathiesen, who topped the evening's scorers with 24 points, sank the first field goal in the extra session only to have Agrella counter for Washington.

Choate sank another for the Indians and Santos tied it up again at 49 all. Choate came to the rescue again late in the overtime session to clinch it with another field goal.

Art Anchundo sparked the Pupies to their win with 18 points.

The Washington Varsity dropped their loop opener to James Lick in overtime, 46-41.

Washington Varsity:

	FG	FT	TP
Agrella, f	1	2	4
Orozco, f	4	4	12
Hird, f	1	0	2
Santos, g	6	2	14
Olk, g	2	3	7

Washington lightweights:

	FG	FT	TP
Marin, f	5	4	14
Rangel, f	0	1	1
Orozco, c	4	5	13
Anchundo, g	7	4	16
Meneze, g	2	1	5

One Point Again!

Husky cagers lost another close one Monday night, when Bellarmine's quintet nipped the locals, 47-46, in the Centerville gym.

Though Coach Clyde Voorhees' charges staged a furious second-half rally, it wasn't enough to overcome the Bells' lead.

Agrella garnered 10 for the Orange and Black.

When we came West, we found out...
Gas and electricity are cheap in California say Mr. and Mrs. John Silva, of San Leandro, shown with their daughter
How P. G. and E.'s low rates save the Silvas money
The Silvas' P. G. and E. bill for a recent month was $13.09
In their former home the same amount of gas and electricity would cost $25.68

"Before we moved West in 1952," says Mr. Silva, "I came out on a visit. And I surely liked what I saw: beautiful scenery, perfect weather, pleasant living. After moving, we found California living has still another advantage—that gas and electricity cost far less here than where we used to live."

Prove for yourself how really cheap gas and electricity are in California by comparing P. G. and E.'s combined rates today with 1938. You'll find they are actually lower now than 16 years ago. So let bargain gas and electricity serve you in more ways . . . make your life easier and more comfortable.

Crown Prince Book Reviewed at Meeting

Mrs. Dora Mae Scudder led a discussion of Elizabeth Gray Vining's "Windows for the Crown Prince" at last Wednesday's meeting of the Decoto Discussion Group.

The story is a modest account of the author's personal experience in Japan where she acted as tutor to Akihito, the young Crown Prince. Mrs. Vining was in close contact with the Imperial Family for four years, and through her courtesy, her tact, and her warm sympathies, won their deepest admiration.

This book leads to a greater understanding of the adjustment the Japanese people have made, or such was the opinion expressed by various members.

The group met at the home of Mrs. Katherine Goulart.

NEWARK NEWS

By PAT BINDER

NEWARK is noted for its good cooks, especially cake bakers. We are going to name a few whose culinary arts we have sampled: Mary Maciel's veal stroganoff, Louise Quadros' chiffon cake (took second place in last year's cooking contest), Maurine Thiessen's lemon pie, Ethel Auchard's mock-tamale rolls, Mary Silva's moon light cake. This is not a bid for free food—my figure can't stand it. We know there are many other fine cooks in town and would like to have their names and specialties. Phone Newark 3-3802 and ask for Pat.

A WELCOME to Newark for the Russell Schniders and children, Robert, Harold, Joanne and Ronald, who moved here a week and a half ago. The Schniders, formerly of Michigan, now reside in Los Ranchitos, on Zulmida Street. Mr. Schnider is employed with the L. A. Young Co. in San Leandro.

APOLOGIES from the Chamber of Commerce to Wallace and Jean Barney and daughter, Barbara, of Lincoln, Nebraska, for the unusual California weather we have been having during their visit here with Jean's brother, Wayne Thiessen and family. The Thiessens entertained the Barneys and Wallace's brother, Phil Barney and family of Alameda, last Sunday.

NORMA and STELLA CUNHA and children, Dougie and Chris, were in town last week-end visiting Stella's parents, the Roy Carters. Sorry to report little Chris was ill.

ISN'T THERE anyone in Newark with a last name beginning with the letter I? If there is, they are not listed in the phone book.

MRS. JOHN A. FREITAS Sr. celebrated her birthday January 15 with a small family party.

RAY and ETHEL AUCHARD had as overnight guests last Friday Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Pennell of Sacramento. Mrs. Pennell is Ethel's sister. On Saturday morning the Auchards had a surprise visit from Ethel's niece and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Pogue of Briceland who stopped enroute to Los Angeles.

TONY and MARY MACIEL, Joe and Annie Maciel and Mr. and Mrs. Tony Vargas returned last week from a motor trip which took them through Las Vegas, Phoenix, Arizona, El Centro, and Mexicali, Mexico. The Maciels and Vargases also stopped in Santa Barbara to visit the old Mission.

OF INTEREST to parishioners of St. Edward's Church is the fact that Fr. Vincent O'Sullivan S.J. is here from Santa Clara University to help Fr. Gilbert. Fr. O'Sullivan is a professor of ontology, the science of being, part of Catholic philosophy.

PRIZES which will be offered at the Portugal of Today Radio Club whist party Sunday, January 24, are all handmade. The card party will be held at the Pavilion at 2 o'clock.

MEET THE MERCHANTS: Don Fipps, owner of Don's Liquor Store at Magnolia and Thornton since last October, is a native of North Carolina. Don, who has lived in Newark since last June, was a seaman with the Army Transport Service from Pearl Harbor until July, 1953. He has circled the globe several times and has visited England, Germany, Japan, Manila, South America and many other places. According to Don, Rio Janiero has the most beautiful port in the world. Don married Marie Woods of Texas in February, 1950, in Beaumont, Texas. The Fipps have one son, Alan, who is sixteen months old. They live in Los Ranchitos.

OUR READERS WRITE . . .

Editor, Sir:

Surely every public-minded citizen of the Township has been watching the progress of the GREAT DEBATE going on in our Township Chamber of Commerce. I think your editorial of January 7 has, for the first time, hit the crux of the matter squarely on the head. It points out that this Township is divided between those who want to keep the Chambers as closed corporations and those who are thinking MORE STRONGLY of the Township as a whole. The paradox is that BOTH GROUPS ARE RIGHT—each in its own way.

Chambers of Commerce, by their very name, ARE closed corporations, and have never opened their membership to every "Tom, Dick and Harry!" They represent only the merchants of a town, often with by-law exclusions of other groups, such as union members, farmers, etc. They can no more be regarded as expressing Township-wide opinion than could any other restricted group. As a matter of fact, they have acquired a nation-wide reputation for a very biased approach to issues. Under these conditions, those in our Township group who wish to maintain a strictly Chamber of Commerce status, are being loyal to what their organization stands for.

What has happened here in Washington Township is that a large element of progressive-thinking CHAMBER men want an "effective spokesman for our Township to influence legislation and to attract industry and business." These men have vision beyond each his own little bailiwick, and feel that the Township holds the promise of one prosperous community of "strength undeniable." I can not but believe that, conservatively, this means also that they feel that if the Township is divided up into half a dozen communities, no one of them will amount to much. No one can deny that THESE MEN TOO are correct and admirable in their argument.

Now, what I feel is the real trouble is that the perfectly-correct Chamber IS NOT THE INSTRUMENT THROUGH WHICH the second perfectly-correct group can, or should even TRY, to accomplish Township-wide goals.

By its very limitation in membership representation, the Township Chamber is only a reflection of other Chambers who are avidly concerned each with its own interests. It can not be expected that AS CHAMBER MEMBERS they can express the opinion of their towns as a whole, much less the opinion of the Township as a whole. Not that opinions of small groups are not valuable—far from it. But it seems to me that this means that those members with a Township vision MUST DEVELOP AN ENTIRELY NEW GROUP, inviting all the Toms and Dicks and Harrys: Unions, farmers, industries, new-comers—even the women, bless us!—when they want the opinions of the whole population on such Township-wide questions as zoning and incorporation. This cannot be done through a Chamber of Commerce. The public, in general, considers them prejudical.

You are going to be criticized for your editorial as an "outsider trying to tell us how to run things." It might be of comfort to you to know that there are some old-timers who, though they often disagree with you, are willing to admit that even new-comers might be intelligent. But there is still much work to be done to overcome inter-town jealousies, the fears of Big Frogs that they may become Little Toads, and the always present fear of change. Personally, I have felt for over thirty years that it would be most tragic to divide our Township up into several "one-horse" towns, when we have the material for one fine city. And I cannot but feel that, in the end, local self-centeredness will yield to the good of the whole. Unless we have that faith in mankind, how is a United Nations EVER going to WORK?

(Mrs.) WINIFRED H. BENDEL

Editor, Sir:

For the past two weeks your Newark column has been running lists of the best dressed women. This is good—yet it is bad. Heretofore my wife has been content to go to town in her jeans, loafers, blouse, etc. Now she must take an hour in preparation. Also when I get the wardrobe bill in Feburary I will spend hours in preparing a way to pay it.

If she doesn't make the select list soon, I will have to do something drastic—no, I won't cancel my subscription, but I might have to move to Niles.

Please help me!

Yours truly,
(Name Withheld)

(Open Letter)
Board of Fire Commissioners
Niles Fire District
Niles, California.
Gentlemen:

You have taken away my right to speak to you at your public meetings and have insisted that all my comments be made in written form. Writing all my comments of course is almost an impossible undertaking but I will attempt to do so via open letters, this being the first of a series.

The seed of our present disagreement was the condition of the present fire alarm system. My vocal insistence that something be done about its serious ineffective performance also helped bring about the request for my resignation from the Volunteer Fire Department.

For many years the volunteer firemen and their Chief have requested action to remedy what they considered a serious situation. The firemen requested specific action in a June, 1951, meeting of their Club. You did nothing about it at that time.

On or about September 15, 1953, I reminded you that many of the firemen could not always hear the siren, myself included, and stated it seemed completely illogical to have a new $40,000 firehouse, three fire engines and equipment worth approximately another $40,000, when almost half of the nineteen volunteers could not always hear and therefore respond to the twenty-year-old siren.

Fate, it seems, has stepped into our disagreement when on Monday night, January 18, 1954, the siren in an attempt to call the firemen did not blow properly.

I therefore suggest you secure an impartial analysis of the siren's general condition and as a result of that investigation perhaps immediately purchase a new siren of modern design and of sufficient power to be heard with reliability throughout the entire area.

Sincerely yours,
JACK PARRY

SEEK WATER PLAN TO COMBAT SALT

Salt-water seepage into local wells has prompted the Alameda County Water District to petition the State once more for relief.

In a letter to the Department of Public Works, district directors, headed by W. D. Patterson, asked:

1. That studies be undertaken to establish salt-water barriers, in the form of huge dykes, across both Northern and Southern San Francisco Bay, and

2. That fresh water be taken from the San Joaquin River at Martinez, and carried by canal past Walnut Creek and Pleasanton, down Alameda Creek to replenish underground supplies here.

Otherwise, says the letter, increasing salt-water seepage into underground strata here will soon exhaust local water supplies.

Benjamin Franklin was responsible for organization of America's first circulating library.

SUZY SEZ...

Is my face red! My favorite spy reported last week there was a patrol car outside a gay party in Newark. Turns out she needs glasses—it was a private car that was patrol-car colored, but bearing a sheriff's reserve sticker.

* * * *

Driving through the Township these winter Sundays discloses the fact that while garden work is dormant, home owners are doing work on their automobiles. There's hardly a block without a car with its hood up, getting a going-over by the man and sometimes by the woman of the house, too.

* * * *

A Township resident received a "congratulations on your baby" and a gift last week, from a friend back east. Her youngest is six, so she wondered why her friend sent the gift. Then she noticed the card was addressed to "Sandy," who is the family dog, and whose name was included on her Christmas cards last year.

* * * *

I wonder how many Township residents are like those here in Orchard Park, on Towers Way, are without street lights for which they are paying taxes, simply because they have not gotten together and signed a letter to Supervisor Stanley requesting the lights?

* * * *

Speaking of lights, those signals on Thonrton and Main in Centerville seem to be a long time in coming.

* * * *

Even if your dog always stays in the back yard, you are required to get a 1954 license, available locally. One dollar is a small sum to pay to be sure your pet will be returned in case he should stray.

* * * *

I notice that all aliens must register during January. Does that include us foreigners from Texas?

* * * *

With colds and other illnesses going the rounds, I've found it helps a lot to give a sick child a bell to ring when he wants attention. It does away with that sad-sounding whine that usually develops during the last days of convalescence.

* * * *

The bickering and useless talk done at our Township Chamber of Commerce puts any sewing circle or women's bridge club to shame. I wonder what a group of mothers and wives of Washington Township could get done for the future of all of us?

* * * *

Remember, privacy is not a commodity exclusively for adults. Knock on your youngsters' bedroom before entering and treat his secrets as such.

* * * *

I learned from a Newark woman to fast-freeze soup in soup bowls, then remove, wrap in foil and place in plastic bags until used. That way you only thaw out what you need and there are no leftovers.

* * * *

While on the subject of freezing, my nylons seem to wear longer since I started placing the new pairs in an ice tray full of water, freezing, and then wearing after they've been thawed and dried out.

* * * *

A mixture of canned cranberry and apple sauce, placed in bits of left-over pie dough, makes tasty tarts.

It's easy to get up early in the morning—the night before!

So long . . .

DECOTO NEWS

By BETTY ALVARES

HERE I AM back again with the Decoto News. I had no column these past two weeks as I honestly didn't think anybody'd read the stuff but me and the editor. But I would like to thank the many people who asked about my column.

I HAD A CHAT with Dr. Samuel Levine last Friday and his clinic will be located across from the monument at the corner of Fourth Street and Decoto Road, and will be accepting cases on February 15. Dr. Silva and Dr. Taylor will be there daily from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., with Dr. Levine coming by appointment.

LAST TUESDAY a special meeting was called for teachers of the Decoto area. The program was an art demonstration and Erma Middup of the county supervisors' office was guest speaker.

On JANUARY 14 a photographer from the county offices took pictures of the first grade room 2, Mrs. Edwards' class, at Decoto School. The pictures were of the class work units.

MRS. PAGAN'S and Miss Hale's third grades from rooms 7 and 9 took a walk to the firehouse to make a study of the equipment and building which the children found very interesting. As soon as the weather permits classes will walk around town, making studies.

MRS. SCHAFF, the fourth grade teacher from room 11, is still very ill and not expected back until the middle of February.

THE BIRTHDAY CLUB met last Thursday night. Linda Cunha entertained Doris King at the home of Florence Wallace. Present were Linda Cunha, Doris King, Florence Wallace, Roberta Steinhaur, Rosida Cunha, Zelma Oliver, Annie Azevedo, Vivian Dunn, Minnie Shields, Ann Parker, Mae Soito and Frances Avilla. Whist was played with Roberta Steinhauer winning first and Rosida Cunha the booby prize. Refreshments were served.

HOLY ROSARY GUILD met last Tuesday night. Women were chosen to clean the church and plans were made for the coming card party which will be held on January 27 at 2 p.m. in the assembly hall. The public is invited. Score cards will be 50 cents and proceeds are to be donated to the church for the building fund.

THE BARNARD P.T.A. held its regular meeting Wednesday in the Hillview auditorium. The meeting was a language art program with various grades taking part.

ROLLER SKATES are getting pretty dangerous these days, at least to Frankie Braga. Frankie says he stepped on a skate and fell. He is now sporting a skinned face and is minus his three front teeth.

JOE ANDRADE of the Decoto Garage is back on the sick list again. The doctor says it will be March or so before he's back to work again.

SPEAKING OF GARAGES — Ray's Service is getting a new paint job and it looks mightly nice.

PVT. JOHN FLETCHER Jr. was home on leave. He is stationed at Fort Lewis, Washington. He arrived back at base just in time to go on three weeks' maneuvers.

MR. and MRS. VICTOR MOGNAGA, along with Mr. and Mrs. John Nova, motored to Modesto to visit friends for the week-end.

BORN at the Decoto Medical Clinic with Dr. Morgan Lee in attendance were:

January 2, Mary Lourdes Martinez, weighing 6 pounds, 2 ounces, the first child of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph L. Martinez of Niles.

January 5, Oscar Castello arrived weighing 7 pounds, the second child of Mr. and Mrs. Juan Castello of Decoto.

CURRAN THEATER HAS 'NEW FACES'

When "Leonard Sillman's New Faces of 1953" returns to the Curran Theater, San Francisco, on January 26, it will be the first time in the history of San Francisco that a musical revue has returned because of the demand that far exceeded the number of tickets for sale on its first engagement.

"New Faces" has a lot of things that haven't been seen in the entertainment world for a long time, say critics. It has originality. It has sophistication. It has fine music.

Best of all, it has Eartha Kitt, Ronny Graham, Alice Ghostley, June Carroll, Paul Lynde, all show-stoppers.

"New Faces" will play nightly including Sunday evenings with matinees every Saturday and one Wednesday matinee, January 27.

January 8, Calvin Oscar Cheng made his appearance, weighing 8 pounds, 8 ounces, the third child of Mr. and Mrs. Henry F. Cheng of Mowry Road, Newark.

January 8, Naomi Salas was born, weighing 4 pounds and 12 ounces, the third child of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Salas of Nint Street, Decoto.

January 10, Maria De Carmen M. Casillas arrived, weighing 6 pounds, 4 ounces, the third child of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Casillas of Decoto.

Flood Control

ber at its last meeting left the decision up to the directors.

A recommendation from the advisory commission must be forthcoming in time for the Supervisors to send zone boundaries to Sacramento by January 29. This is so the zone can be listed on the county assessment rolls by July 1 this year. Otherwise, it will have to wait another full year.

Crowle explained the time is short because the commission had to wait and see how Livermore and Pleasanton voted before asking Washington Township if it wanted to form the zone by itself.

The question of forming the zone came up early last year but action was postponed until Livermore and Pleasanton decided whether or not to join. Irvington and Alvarado already are in zones, and both have voted bonds to start drainage and flood-control work.

Crowle started Thursday's session by listing improvements planned along Alameda Creek. He said straightening and widening the channel, ditching and leveeings its banks probably would cost $5,000,000. But he stressed the Federal and State governments will bear most of the cost. In fact, he said, the U. S. Engineers already have rendered a favorable report for flood work on Alameda Creek.

However, local interests must help to the extent of some rights-of-way purchases, and must agree to maintain the improvements once they are built, Crowle added.

"The zone also could apply for and acquire water rights, for conservation," the county engineer went on.

He reminded that until some $3,500,000 in storm drainage is completed, involving canals to the Bay and underground conduits, that much of the Niles-Centerville-Newark area will be barred from further development.

"Cost of all this to the individual is estimated at about 92 cents a month in extra taxes on the average 3-bedroom home," Crowle said. "For industries of course the cost would be higher, but industries should remember that flood control encourages other industries to settle here, and spreads the tax load."

Citing the need for flood control here, the engineer named the $2,000,000 damage done by the waters of Alameda Creek in January, 1952. During the peak of that flood, 17,000 cubic feet of water per second came down the creek. But in 1911, he said, federal stream gauges measured no less than 31,000 second-feet, "and the entire bay front was a huge lake for weeks."

Added Mrs. James R. Whipple of Niles:

"I've lived here since 1883, and I've seen Alameda Creek on the rampage, drowning men and sweeping the banks away. But we have to think beyond that. Water is gold. Now we have to drill wells 150 feet and more to get it. I say, take a chance and see what this zone would do for us."

Joe Perry, farmer on Decoto Road, declared:

"If the levee hadn't broken (farther west) in 1952, the homes in Centerville would have gone clear to Newark. Now the creek has more brush and mud in it than ever. If we don't take care of it in another couple of years, folks in Newark will wake up and find the water outside just like I did." As for the recent dry years, said Perry:

"On April 5, 1911, it was dry so we all went to church and prayed for rain. When we got home, it was raining. It rained for three days and we had the worst floods in years."

But Davis and Cotton insisted that they wanted more data. Cotton demanded:

"Why do we have to be in a zone before we find out what we're getting into? How much will it cost? Suppose these ditches go across somebody's land and ruin it?" He asked that Crowle explain the issue to his Chamber of Commerce at its regular meeting February 9, but was informed that is past the deadline.

Davis said he and other Decoto directors "had sounded out farmers and industries and decided against" the zone.

"Let's have a community meeting," said Davis. "I personally don't understand this, and I always vote no on anything I don't understand."

Crowle tried to answer the objectors by saying that "most of the facilities won't be built until development comes, so if there's no development, there'll be no expense." He offered to show the audience preliminary plans, and again mentioned the estimated cost and proposed assessment (50 cents per $100).

But Davis and Cotton were adamant. Davis asked why Decoto couldn't be left out of the zone. Crowle replied this isn't possible because it would benefit from its neighbors' taxes.

Finally Commissioner Charles S. Long, Hayward area rancher, declared he was "opposed to action prior to positive statements from Newark and Decoto Chambers of Commerce," and the Washington Hi public meeting was set.
